

I am an MCA graduate with a strong technical background, problem-solving skills, and an interest in protecting digital information and systems. I value continuous learning, responsibility, and integrity, and I am interested in cybersecurity because I enjoy understanding security threats and finding ways to protect organizations from them. I aim to use my technical skills and growing cybersecurity knowledge to help organizations identify risks, detect threats, and strengthen their security.